GameChanzer, a prominent political management firm, has unveiled the results of its recent survey forecasting the distribution of parliamentary seats in the Telugu-speaking states of Andhra Pradesh and Telangana.

The survey sheds light on the anticipated outcomes in both states:

Andhra Pradesh:

YSR Congress Party (YSRCP): 9 seats
Telugu Desam Party (TDP): 16 seats

Telangana:
Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP): 5 seats
Indian National Congress (Congress): 8 seats
Bharatiya Rashtravadi Samanvaya Samithi (BRS): 3 seats
All India Majlis-e-Ittehad-ul-Muslimeen (AIMIM): 1 seat

According to the findings, the YSRCP is expected to secure 9 seats in Andhra Pradesh, while the TDP is projected to win 16 seats in the state.

In Telangana, the BJP is foreseen to clinch 5 seats, followed by the Congress with 8 seats. the BRS is predicted to secure 3 seats, while the AIMIM is expected to claim 1 seat.

The survey conducted by GameChanzer provides valuable insights into the political landscape of these states ahead of the upcoming Lok Sabha elections. These projections offer a glimpse into the potential distribution of parliamentary representation, shaping the discourse and strategies of political parties as they prepare for the electoral battleground.

As the political climate evolves, these projections serve as a significant reference point for stakeholders, candidates, and voters, influencing campaign strategies and political alliances in the Telugu-speaking regions.
